JANUARY NEWSLETTER

Welcome!!

We hope you all enjoyed a great start to 2017 and we will be bringing you a calendar packed with exciting events and activities throughout this month and in the year ahead.

The beginning of January coincided with the end of our Winter Camp - an event where the children enjoyed lots of interesting activities like cooking and arts and crafts together with field trips where they could exercise and improve their motor skills as well as having loads of fun!

The Winter Camp closed with an exhibition for the parents, who were welcomed by Mr. Snowman and shared a warming cup of hot chocolate.

Looking ahead, January will feature our Sports Day on Thursday 12th. Our little ones will display their skills in a range of games and races where the fun is far more important than who comes first!

We hope to see you on the day, cheering your children and enjoying the atmosphere.

We will also be preparing for February's International Day with songs, rhymes, flags and costumes from different countries that celebrates the diversity of the world.

The topics for January will be self-care including how to keep healthy by eating well and exercising properly and developing independence by activities like brushing teeth. Another topic will be the children's immediate surroundings - their family and friends and how they relate to them. And of course we won't forget Art - the children will be listening to a variety of musical styles, following rhythms and drawing the sounds.

It's going to be a super January here and we'd love you to involve yourselves at home as much as you can.

Active learning

Active learning focuses on a range of attitudes and dispositions that help to define child's motivation to achieve mastery-to experience competence, understanding, and autonomy.
